The beginning of “SDHSV”

The Ministry of Social Development and Human Security (MSDHS) is the main agency in working on social development to minimize social inequality and create opportunities to access government services in accordance with government policy, with operation focusing on prevention, assistance, problem solving, promotion and development of society so that people have a good quality of life, covering all areas and target groups, including those with social problems, children, youth, the disabled, the elderly, the homeless, women, and other groups in society from birth to death

Social Development and Human Security Volunteer

“SDHSV”

Social Development and Human Security Volunteer

The Social Development and Human Security Volunteers (SDHSVs) are individuals who volunteer to help the operations according to the missions of the Ministry of Social Development and Human Security and have been trained according to the basis and methods set by the Social Development and Human Security Volunteer Promotion Committee to take care of people of all ages, from children and youth, women and families, the disabled, the elderly, and the disadvantaged,

The following roles:

- Present information on the situation of social problems that occur in the community and those affected to lead to monitoring or prevention and problem solving.
- Coordinate with networks at all levels in helping those with problems, preventing and solving problems, and rehabilitating those affected by natural disasters.
- Encourage or urge communities to jointly develop community plans for problem prevention and solving in the community.

“The SDHSVs work with a volunteer spirit and heart, wanting to help people in need without expecting anything in return.”
