

Two efforts to resolve problems of “Alternative Structures” ~”wheels of a car” as ”investment to the future” ~

They shall change the Alternative Structures of “work” or “marriage and birth” to the structures in which all people including women with will to work can realize commitment to the labour market while they enable people to get married, birth and raise their children as their hope.

To realize

Realization of balancing work and life according to “the reform of working styles”
(←Difficulties in balancing work and life due to long-time work, and the present condition of lack of share in house-work and child raising, etc)

Establishment of frameworks (social bases) to support comprehensively “balance of parents’ works and growth of children” and “child raising in a family”
(←The status in which people have to give up their works even though they hope for them, and their ideal birth and child raising due to the fact that childcare services are not available, etc)

It is important to put two efforts, as” wheels of a car”, back on the track as “investment to the future.”